LOADED WITH GOLD WATCHES

Police Make Important Capture.--Rooms Robbed at the Wentworth

REMARKABLE CAPTURE

Police Officers Shannon and Carlton made an important arrest today when they pulled John Danehy, aged 24, from the bootblack stand at the depot, where he was skimming up a little, preparing for a trip to Boston. Had Pocket Full of Watches and Pins

Complaint was made to the police on Tuesday by the manager of the Hotel Wentworth that some of the rooms there had been entered and articles were missing. Danehy, who has been working there for part of the season, was suspected, according to the police, of knowing something about the affair, and his description was given to the officers, along with that of the numerous articles missing.

The officers who had been watching the trains, got a tip that Danehy was to go to Boston today, and his arrest followed just before the departure of the 10:55 a. m. passenger for the Hub.

He denied any knowledge of the reported robbery and, while on the way to the station, attempted to jump from the police wagon.

Loaded With Watches and Pins. When searched at the station his clothing contained nine watches, three of them ladies' time pieces, several pins and other articles. The watches are not very valuable as a whole, and the highest priced one in the lot would bring $60.00.

Danehy, on Tuesday sent a dress suit case ahead to Boston which, the police claim, has other stolen articles in it, including a valuable toilet set. The railroad officials have or-

CONVENTION OF ANCIENT ORDER OF HIBERNIANS

And The Ladies' Auxiliary--Held In This City Beginning This Morning

The Ancient Order of Hibernians and the Ladies' Auxiliary of that order throughout the state, are here in convention today. This gathering is a distinguished feature every year with these orders and always large delegations representing the several divisions and auxiliaries turn out to select the state officers and to promote the order in New Hampshire. For many months the Portsmouth branch of the order has been at work perfecting plans for the entertainment of the guests and to make the convention of 1910 at Portsmouth the most enthusiastic and enjoyable in the history of the order in this state.

This local committee certainly accomplished, as was proven by the large attendance of men and women. It has long been known that the members of the orders favor Portsmouth as the most ideal city for the big meetings, above any other in the state.

Portsmouth always has the glad hand and a warm welcome for the stranger, and no secret organization knows this better than the Hibernians.

Will Use Four Halls

The importance of this convention in this city is evident when it is known that it was necessary to use four different halls to carry on the program mapped out for the occasion.

The convention of the Divisions is at Freeman's Hall, while that of the women is being held at Eagle's headquarters. Rehearsal hall, the headquarters of the orders in this city, is open for the reception of the guests.

GEORGE P. SCOTT, County President A. O. H.

and the rooms of the Catholic Union will be the scene of the big joint banquet.

What is Being Done Today

Many of the delegates arrived as early as Monday night, and during Tuesday and this morning were joined by those from the upper part of the state.

Shortly before 9 o'clock the members of the divisions and auxiliaries met at the convention hall and marched in a body to the Church of the Immaculate Conception, where solemn high mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr.

MRS. D. J. FOLEY, State President Ladies' Auxiliary.

Edward J. Walsh, P. R., as celebrant, Rev. Dr. John B. Finan of Exeter as deacon, Rev. William J. White as sub-deacon.

Following the mass Rev. Fr. Matthew Creamer of Nashua, state chaplain of the order, preached a most eloquent sermon on "Hibernianism

BURROUGHS AT DERRY

Speech About Sulloway and the
New Tariff Law

Derry, Aug. 31, 1910.—Sherman E. Burroughs, of Manchester, candidate for Republican nomination for Congress in the First District, at a rousing rally held here Tuesday night in Adams Memorial Hall, over which ex-Senator Charles W. Abbott presided, challenged his opponent Congressman Sulloway, to show proof that he had made any effort to obtain any reductions in the schedules of the new tariff law, in accordance with the recommendations of President Taft, and especially the woolen schedule. Mr. Burroughs declared that, while the Payne-Aldrich bill may be a good law it could have been made a better one. The wrongs in it, he asserted, are due to the method by which it was framed. Frank A. Musgrave of Hanover state supervisor of the census, also addressed the rally, discussing state and national issues. Mr. Burroughs in the course of his speech, said:

The Payne-Aldrich tariff law may be a pretty good law, it may even be better than any tariff we have had before; but it is not as good as it ought to be. This is shown by what President Taft himself says about it. The wrongs in it are due to the method by which it was framed, a method which has been practised by both parties heretofore, but a method which, if President Taft and those who believe with him have their way, is not going to be practised hereafter, at least by the Republican party. This old method is the method of "log-rolling," by which special interests are enabled through their powerful lobbies and through their control of representatives in Congress to secure what they want with little or no regard for what the people want. This is the method which Speaker Cannon approves and this is the method which Mr. Sulloway has always approved. What efforts did Mr. Sulloway make at the special session of Congress when the tariff bill was passed to obtain reductions in any of the schedules in accordance with the recommendations of President Taft? He talks about the Congressional Record, let him produce from the Congressional Record a single thing to show that he made any effort whatever to obtain a reduction in the notorious woolen schedule, for instance, that President Taft says is "indefensible," and ought to have been reduced.

The original purposes of a protective tariff were two: First, to uphold infant industries; second, to enable the manufacturers to pay workmen the difference in the price of labor between this country and other countries; that is about as far as protection can go; less than that is unjust to labor; more than that is unjust to the consumer.

In the present tariff, and the one which preceded it, various industries simply tried to get all they could out of it. The tariff ought to be taken out of politics so far as possible and put on a business basis for the benefit of farmers, and laborers, and consumers, as well as manufacturers. It may not be possible to do this entirely, but there is a growing sentiment in favor of doing it so far as it is possible. There is no other civilized country in the world that frames its tariff bills as ours have been framed heretofore.

There are some men who think that the prosperity of all American citizens depends upon the gigantic prosperity of a comparatively few American citizens. I believe that the prosperity of the comparatively few American citizens should depend upon the common prosperity of all American citizens. The enormous earnings of the Sugar trust do not need to be swollen by misuse of the protective principle, neither should the tremendous profits of the Tobacco trust be aided by acts of Congress. Swollen and dangerous fortunes are not necessary to good wages for the workman, fair salaries to the clerk or commercial traveler, or honest prices to the farmer.

A permanent non-partisan tariff commission, is the one great piece of constructive legislation we need in order to eliminate as far as possible the tariff from politics. Some legislation has already been passed looking to such a commission but it is probable that more legislation will have to be passed in order to make it efficient, so that it may accomplish the desired results. It is wicked and absurd that the interests of all the producing elements of the country—manufacturers, farmers, merchants, workmen and others—should any longer be mere cards played by politicians for their own advancement.

Every modern country has established a tariff commission. It was by a tariff commission that Germany built her remarkable tariff. It is by a tariff commission is today readjusting her tariff duties. It is by a tariff commission, paid for out of the pockets of English manufacturers, that the United Kingdom is preparing for the inevitable abandonment of her free trade policy and joining the company of nations as an intelligent protective country.

How much longer are we going to let the politicians make us do their bidding, instead of our making them do our bidding?

DOVER DOINGS

Dover, Aug. 31.—The Strafford county authorities are still hunting for Nicholas Capatakas, the Greek, who is wanted for the murder of his aunt in a tenement house in Somersworth, Wednesday, Aug. 17, but with little success. Every covey has been run down by Sheriff Smith and his deputies, and much expense to the county incurred. The last report was that Capatakas was thought to be hidden in a woodlot on the border of Saco, Me., but a search of that section revealed nothing, and County Solicitor Hall has now called the officers home.

The last of the summer series of open air band concerts will be held on Franklin square Thursday evening, and if weather conditions are unfavorable, the concert will take place Friday evening.

The Casino at Central park was the scene of a large and merry party on Tuesday night, the occasion being a society dance given under the auspices of the K. and L. club, composed of a number of popular young men in this city. There were nearly 100 couples in attendance, including guests from Rochester and Somersworth, and prizes were awarded for two most original and unique costumes.

Dennis Martin, who was seriously injured in a railroad accident in the eastern freight yard several weeks ago has been removed from the Strafford county farm to the Hayes hospital for treatment.

The third story wall of the new storehouse being erected by the Pacific Mills company on Chestnut street is rapidly going up and it is expected that the building will be roofed in and ready, at least in part, for occupancy before snow flies.

It is predicted that there will be considerable activity in building operations at Atlantic Heights another year. This plot of land was purchased by a syndicate and divided up into house lots which were sold at public auction a year ago.

The Middlebrook Golf club will hold a clubhouse and entertain a large number of guests at the South End Links on Labor day.

SHERMAN E. BURROUGHS

I have said and now say that Mr. Sulloway now claims to stand with President Taft on all questions.

I have said and now say that Mr. Sulloway, in August last, at Canobie Lake, in a public address delivered before the Rockingham County Republican Club, made a Bitter Attack upon President Taft's Tariff Policy—and I have proved this by producing the report of this address by Mr. Sulloway, published at the time in three newspapers; The Manchester Union, The Portsmouth Daily Chronicle and the Boston Globe.

NAVAL TESTS OF BIG GUNS

To Be Carried On With the Old
Katahdin for a Target

Washington, Aug. 31.—The monitor Tallahassee has arrived at the Washington navy yard from the Norfolk yard to be fitted out for special secret ordnance tests to be conducted in the Potomac river, below Indian Head, Md. The Tallahassee is to operate in conjunction with the ram Katahdin, which has been stationed below the Indian Head proving grounds since last spring. The series of tests which have been mapped out by Rear Admiral Mason, chief of ordnance, are to be in advance of any armor and projectile tests ever conducted afloat. Always heretofore all the big guns of the navy have been tested for proof firing from a special mounting on the shore at Indian Head. Until recently the target of armor plate has been made fast on shore, a few hundred yards from the gun being fired. Last spring the Katahdin was especially fitted out to carry the armor plate target afloat in order that the full maximum range might be had. The old ram was anchored at different places in the widest stretches of the Potomac, from three to five miles below the proving ground, and considerable firing upon her has been done from the new guns which have been forged at the Washington yard. It was found impossible to make use of the maximum range of the guns, because of the shipping in the river and the farming interests along the shores, which complained that they were menaced by the firing overland at the target in the water.

On the Tallahassee the big guns are to be mounted in the turret, according to the plans, and the vessel will be towed out into a suitable position to give her the desired range of five to ten miles to the Katahdin. As the range is increased both vessels will be towed farther down the river, or out into the Chesapeake Bay, if necessary, in order to find a clear course without menacing the shipping or the farmers on shore.

Heretofore, owing to the limited range, it has not been possible to test guns with the full high power charge, the power being reduced in proportion to the short range, so as to give the desired velocity of between 2400 and 3000 feet a second. The firing, accordingly, was direct, without elevation, and it has not been possible to determine the exact position of the shell upon striking the armor. The system of proof firing in vogue has always been satisfactory. But the demands for all possible accuracy in the guns has led the ordnance department to adopt the plans for full range firing on tests.

The Katahdin has been fitted out with improved water tight compartments, filled with cork and sawdust to prevent sinking if punctured. Practically the entire vessel rests under water, however, with the armor plate mounted on deck, so there has been little danger of destroying the hull. Of several dozen shots which already have been fired at the target from the shore station, several projectiles have gone below water with sufficient force to tear holes in the ship, and twice she has been sunk; but as she was anchored in shallow water she was easily raised. She has recently been raised from her second sinking, and the holes have been plugged up. But little work will be required on the Tallahassee, aside from fitting a special construction on the forward deck to make the mounting and dismounting of the guns easier. But one side of the turret will be used, as the other side was cracked in the tests in Hampton Roads two years ago.

The new scheme of testing the guns from one ship upon another, with both ships afloat, will afford three distinct tests—first, proving the soundness and accuracy of the gun; second, the position of the projectile upon striking, and third, the resistance power of the new armor plate. The increased distance, to the maximum of supposed range, however, will make less the certainty of hitting the target. For this reason the widest available portions of the Potomac and possibly Chesapeake Bay, will be required.

The tests, which will begin in the early autumn, are expected to be made permanent. They will be conducted by the special ordnance board, of which Captain Knight of Annapolis is chairman. Professor Alger of Annapolis is also a member of the board. A special fund of $30,000 was appropriated by the last congress for these experiments. The Tallahassee was formerly the Florida, which was used as a target for the Osark, then the Arkansas, in the lower Chesapeake Bay two years ago.

WAS FORCED OUT

NO AMERICAN BIDS FOR NEW
CHILEAN BATTLESHIPS—SPECI-FICATIONS FAVOR ENGLAND.

London, Aug. 30.—American and continental shipbuilders who expected to compete for the construction of 150 new Chilean warships, probably have been frozen out. Chile has invited tenders to be submitted by Sept. 15 for two battleships of 24,000 tons each capable of a speed of 23 knots.

The plans have been drawn up by Sir Philip Watts, chief naval constructor of the British navy, and specify that the guns and certain machinery must be of English design and manufacture. The opinion is quite generally expressed here that foreigners would not be likely to arrange terms with English manufacturers who would enable them to compete. It is believed that the terms of the recent Chilean loan, which was floated by the Rothschilds, stipulated the advantage to English builders.

CLEANING UP CONEY ISLAND

"Three R's" Will Insure

MITCHELL'S DRASTIC ACTION

Those Engaged in Running Reputable Amusements Admit That Acting Mayor's Bombshell Was Badly Needed—Some Evil Resorts Flourishing Because They Had Police Protection—Downfall of Inspector O'Brien

New York, Aug. 31.—Coney Island is purified. The grafters, pickpockets, "strong arm" men and women, who have thrived there all summer, have fled in panic because of the activity of the police as a result of the raking over the coals that Acting Mayor Mitchell gave them. The "short changing" of persons in certain hotels has ceased, and a number of questionable resorts along certain side streets have closed up.

Inspector Russell, who was transferred from the head of the detective bureau to remain in charge of Coney Island until the closing after the Mardi Gras, declares that the "ild" will be kept down the rest of the season and wholesale arrests made if undesirable characters make their appearance again.

Acting Mayor Mitchell dropped a bombshell into the island when he declared that the resort was vicious and that it was an "affront to public decency." It was readily admitted by the proprietors of the leading resorts that the police had been exceedingly lax and they were glad that Mitchell had taken steps to improve conditions.

Mr. Mitchell has issued orders to the police to stop the practice of women performers in the concert halls mingling with the audience in what is known as the "green room" and inducing them to buy alleged champagne, for which they were charged $4 a bottle and which in most instances was plain elder, highly charged, and costing the proprietor from 25 to 50 cents. The girls received a percentage on every bottle sold.

Inspector Russell, Deputy Police Commissioner Reynolds of Brooklyn, and Acting Captain Robinson, who has been transferred to the island from the Macdougall street station, who are known as the "three R's," will look after the island until its closing on Sept. 20. Robinson is on the list for promotion to inspectorship. His record at Coney Island will have much to do with his promotion.

Inspector O'Brien, whose transfer was practically ordered by Mitchell, has been reduced to the rank of captain and sent to the Macdougall street station. O'Brien had many friends at Coney Island. Years ago he used to be a lieutenant there.

The conditions at Coney, according to all those engaged in running reputable amusement enterprises there, have been such as to demand just such a rattling as occurred. Mitchell said:

"I made an investigation at Coney Island because I wished to find out whether the police there were giving protection to questionable places. I am satisfied that some resorts were flourishing because they had police protection."

The acting mayor, asked whether his attention had been called to conditions in other sections of the city, said he had received some complaints against the Tenderloin and other sections. Mitchell said he was prepared to enforce the laws, even to the extent of taking drastic action wherever necessary.

NEW HAMPSHIRE SHAKEN

Shock Causes Much Excitement, but No Damage Is Reported

Newport, N. H., Aug. 31.—An earth shock caused considerable excitement in this section of New Hampshire Tuesday, but did no damage. In this town residents felt a distinct trembling of the earth and dishes rattled on the shelves of houses.

The shock lasted for three seconds. It was accompanied by a loud noise resembling thunder. The whole region about Lake Umbagog was shaken, and the summer cottagers were somewhat alarmed.

MAKES A LONG JUMP

Roosevelt Declares That He Pines His Faith in the West

Horace, Kan., Aug. 31.—Through the heart of Colorado and into the western edge of Kansas, Theodore Roosevelt traveled Tuesday on one of the longest jumps of his western tour. He left his train only once, at Pueblo, Colo., to lay the corner stone of the Young Men's Christian association building.

The people who turned out to see the ex-president and hear his three-minute rear platform speeches were as cordial as those who met him on former days of his trip.

The points made by the colonel were:

"The eastern man is not fully educated until he gets west of the Missouri river. I pin my faith in the west because I believe in the type of manhood and womanhood you are producing."

"I put the veteran of the great war ahead of every other citizen, but I put the woman who has made him a good wife ahead of them all."

"We must insist in not only getting justice, but in doing justice."

"Do not base your hopes of governmental success on a genius, but seek to develop a broad manhood."

POLICE STOP PICKETING

Cloak Makers Will Seek to Reverse the Decision of Goff

New York, Aug. 31.—Announcement was made at the headquarters of the striking cloak makers here that Alton B. Parker, one time Democratic presidential candidate, had been retained as special counsel for the union.

He is to seek a reversal by the higher courts of the recent decision of Justice Goff holding the purpose of the strike to be illegal in that it demanded the closed shop and the enjoining of the strikers.

Judge Parker is of the opinion that the Goff decree is too sweeping, as it forbids the right of peaceful assembly and free speech.

The direct effect of Goff's ruling became apparent yesterday when it was announced that picketing of the factories will be stopped by the police.

Many Political Arrests Made For Alleged Conspiracy

Mamagua, Aug. 31.—Provisional President Jose Estrada, arm-in-arm with General Camarillo and accompanied by 15,000 persons, marched to the palace upon his arrival here. Shortly afterward a new cabinet of Conservatives who enjoy public confidence was appointed.

Many arrests of prominent persons, charged with conspiracy, have been made. Among those taken into custody are Felix P. Zelaya, former minister of finance, and Jose D. Gomez, former minister of public works during the regime of President Zelaya; Miguel and Tomas Hernandez, merchants, and Francisco Torres, the notorious governor of Irama in 1894.

The police also endeavored to serve a warrant on Manuel C. Matias, a prominent Liberal congressman and journalist, but as they approached to hand him the document he placed the barrel of his revolver in his mouth and blew out his brains.

PERISHED ON MOORS

Discovery of Body of Lady Marjorie Erskine, Missing For a Month

Glasgow, Aug. 31.—The body of a woman, on which there was a large sum of money, found on the Scottish moors, has been identified as that of Lady Marjorie Erskine, second daughter of the Earl of Buchan.

Lady Erskine was a popular society woman. She had been missing for a month. The condition of the body makes it difficult to discover the cause of her death. There is no evidence of foul play, however, and it is believed she lost her way in the moors and died of exposure.

CHOLERA IN BERLIN

Ten suspected cases of cholera were discovered in Berlin Tuesday. In the northern part of the city a man is dead.

GUILD REPRESENTS TAFT

Thousands Attracted by Celebration of Hundredth Anniversary of Freedom From Spanish Rule—Many Governments Send Gifts as Mark of Respect—Poems Must Undergo Bath and Appear in American Garb

Mexico City, Aug. 31.—Clubs and hotels here are filled by Americans who have flocked into the city to see the opening of the month-long celebration of the 100th anniversary of the independence of Mexico from Spanish rule. Not alone among the watchers, but in the formal observance of the anniversary, many Americans are to take a leading part.

Curtis Guild, Jr., one time governor of Massachusetts, is here as the special ambassador from the United States. He represents President Taft. Several United States senators and representatives and distinguished men from civil life have also been sent here as a commission to represent the United States officially. Living apartments have been allotted to them by President Diaz in the Coban palace.

Members of the American commission have presented their credentials to Enrique C. Creel, minister of foreign relations. The presentation of the special ambassadors to the president will differ but slightly from the presentation of permanent ambassadors. Guild and those from other countries will receive full military honors.

Some of Guild's official companions will be Karl Buezn, representing the kaiser, who will unveil Germany's gift to the republic, a statue of Baron Alexander von Humboldt, and Marquis Capoe di Bagnano, representing Italy.

Spain has sent back as her gift to her rebellious offspring the uniform of the Mexican patriot, General Jose Maria Morelos, and some captured battle flags. The special ambassador from King Alfonso will present these relics to the president in person.

The Sultan of Turkey has built a clock tower in the city and China has sent a gift by her special ambassador.

France, too, will return to the republic a relic of great historical and sentimental interest to all patriotic Mexicans. It will restore the silver keys to the city of Puebla, which were taken in 1863 by General Forey, who commanded the French army of intervention that took Puebla after a long resistance and then moved on to Mexico City to enthrone Maximilian.

Americans who have been here before will scarcely recognize the city. Every building is draped with the national colors and brilliantly lighted. Miles of lights have been strung in the parks and the principal streets. The strangest thing of all will be the absence of the picturesque people, whose garments consist of a little cloth, many rents and much dirt.

No one, according to the government's edict, can appear on the streets during the celebration except in conventional American garb. Clothes must be whole and faces clean. To insure that even the poets appear clean, to which they are generally as averse as ever was Tom Sawyer, the city has provided free baths and laundries. It has also established places where the poor can get free hair cuts and free shaves. If he doesn't he will miss the celebration, except such of it as may be seen from the catboose.

THE KAISER EXPLAINS

Says That Every German Is Working Under God's Commission

Danzig, Aug. 31.—Emperor Wilhelm, at a dinner in the castle at Marienburg, the old seat of the Knights of Malta, given in his honor, made a speech which was a counterpart of that delivered last week at Konigsburg. Taking up the religious vein of the Konigsburg speech he said:

"When I represented myself, like my sainted grandfather, as being under the protection of the Highest and working under the highest commission of our Lord and God, I assumed that every honest Christian, whoever he might be, did the same."

"Whoever works in this spirit knows well that the cross imposes obligations. We should hold together in brotherly love, and we should leave to each race its peculiarities. The races and trade organizations should join hands for common work and for meeting the state's necessities."

"Let the farmer join hands with the merchant and the latter with the manufacturer; let the members of one party join hands with those of a different mind for achieving great things for the fatherland."

HOPE TO FIND ANTITOXIN

Scientists' Isolation of Germs May Result in Cure For Leprosy

Washington, Aug. 31.—Leprosy is making what is believed to be its last stand against science. From Honolulu, the island prison for the plague stricken in the Hawaiian group, word has reached Washington of the achievement accounted second only to the discovery of the lepra bacillus by Professor Hansen in 1879.

Three surgeons of the United States public health and marine hospital service, after months of unremitting toil, have grown lepra bacilli in pure culture outside the human body. In tiny thin glass tubes in the laboratory the loathsome germs are now growing in their third generation.

This achievement of the scientists is the first step in the production of a vaccine or a serum for the cure or prevention of leprosy. It is hoped a leprosin to detect the disease in its early stages may be found.

EQUALITY IS FALSE DREAM OF DEMOCRACY

What the Pope Says in Breaking Up a French Society

Rome, Aug. 31.—Pope Pius has ordered the dissolution of the Sillon society, a powerful French organization of young Catholics, which was inaugurated during the pontificate of Pope Leo XIII for work among the masses, with the object of reconciling them with the church.

In a letter to the French episcopate the pontiff says that the society is propagating "a false dream of democracy and the equality of man—a principle contrary to nature, a generator of jealousy and subversive of social order."

The Sillon society has many ramifications among workmen's organizations.

THREE WAITERS DROWN

Sink in Deep Water and Bodies May Never Be Recovered

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 31.—Beverly and Salem police have abandoned hope of recovering the bodies of the three Casino waiters drowned yesterday, because of the great depth of water off Mystery Island has made grappling impossible.

The three men were drowned when they attempted to change seats in a boat. They were half way between the Beverly Farms shore and Mystery Island.

They were Arnold Surdez, Alexander Lessi and Leonard St. Pierre. A company with Marcelle Cantalope they were out rowing when the craft was overturned.

Cantalope managed to hold on to the overturned craft for some time and was rescued by a fishing sloop. The ages of the men drowned ranged from 20 to 24 years.

Many years ago, while occupying the post of American consul here, Rathbone murdered his wife.

Springfield, Mo., Aug. 31.—Marshfield, in the Ozark mountains, is the birthplace of a presidential boom for Vice President Sherman, launched by Congressman Murphy, representing the Sixth Missouri district in congress. In introducing Mr. Sherman the congressman said:

"I wish to introduce to you the Vice President of the United States, whom I regard as our next president." Sherman seemed surprised, but the audience applauded heartily.

THE LADY AND THE BURGLAR

Moving Picture to Be Seen Today at Music Hall

Professor Blackburn is an eminent lecturer a man well past middle age. He has married a beautiful and charming young woman of whom he is deeply enamored. No clouds mar the professor's marital happiness.

The young wife is very fond of the professor, but he is so engrossed in his studies and the preparation of lectures on Egyptian hieroglyphics that he does not respond sufficiently to the ardent devotion of his wife. Mrs. Blackburn is constantly importuned by a previous suitor whom she had rejected, and though she declines at all times to listen to the handsome Lothario, she refrains from telling her husband anything about his advances. The story of her faithfulness and her husband's suspicion are beautifully told in an Edison moving picture at Music Hall today.

The other new moving pictures there are:

"Refusing a Mansion," Gaumont.

"Buying a Mother-in-Law," Gaumont.

"Russia," Pathe.

"Down With the Women," Pathe.

LORD TIMOTHY DEXTER

In our reminiscences of Portsmouth jail, mention was made of the murder of a granddaughter of the wife of Lord Timothy Dexter. "The Observant Citizen" of the Manchester Union has picked up the following sketch of "Sir Timothy or Lord Dexter":

In the early days of New England there lived a queer character who styled himself "Sir Timothy" or "Lord Dexter." At one time he made his country home in Chester. The following account of some of his eccentricities and the book that he published may be interesting reading:

PUBLIC ATTENTION

Whatever our personal liking or dislike for either of the candidates, the campaign for the Republican nominations for governor and first district congressmen is a good thing for the state of New Hampshire.

It is a healthy condition in a government of the people when candid dates for office have to give an account of themselves and of their public acts.

There is too much tendency to elect men to office and then leave them alone except for such calls as are sure to be made by parties interested in special welfare. It is easy to do business with the parties who present themselves for that purpose and difficult to attend to matters in which nobody seems to be interested. Public attention is needed for public affairs, and we are glad that circumstances in New Hampshire are today such that public affairs are getting that needed attention.

BIRDS EYE VIEWS

It is costing the government $5,000 a day for temporary labor employed to fight the forest fires in Oregon. These figures do not include the expense of pay and maintenance for the regular employees of the forest service or for materials used in battling with the flames.

Metcalfe's comet is expected to look as big as Halley's when it gets into good view in October or November. D'Arrest's comet has been sighted. There are now four 1910 comets visible to astronomers with suitable instruments. Two have been visible to the naked eye and the other two are expected to become so. This is surely a great year for comets.

The fiscal year 1910 will go down in the history of the department of justice as a highly successful one for the government. In the supreme court more than half the cases in which the government had an interest were decided in its favor. Many involved large sums of money and others involved highly important principles of law. On the whole, the government got much the better of it. Out of twenty-three actual cases in which the government had been beaten in the lower courts and appealed it won thirteen. In forty-four other cases in which the government had won in the lower courts and the beaten party appealed to the supreme court, twenty-two were decided in favor of the United States and one adversely. The others were dismissed by the appellants by the court, by stipulation or other means disposed of without defeat to the government. Four cases in which the government had won in the court of claims were carried up and they were decided in favor of the United States. There are now six hundred cases before the supreme court in which the government has an interest. Just in passing, it may be remarked that that record is a great improvement over the records made in the last previous administration.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

Roosevelt's Opinion of Himself
 Plainly there is nothing which this remarkable man cannot settle or band. If Johnson's epithet on Goldsmith, "Nathaniel quod teneat non ornant," may not be applied to him literally, it is within the bounds of reason to say that there is nothing he has not touched. It is difficult to think of anyone asking of him advice he would not deem himself able to give. If, indeed, he did not proffer it before it was asked. He talks to all sorts and conditions of men with equal fluency. His oblique dicta cover every conceivable subject. He puts his finger upon the pulse of the world and says, "Thou art here and here." In the White House or not, he is the supreme authority. Mr. Roosevelt treats himself like an institution. He clearly believes that he is an institution the nation cannot do without.—Providence Journal.

Work for the Next Congress

President Taft has steadily declared that the work already done is incomplete and calls for additional legislation. Not half the Taft program has yet been carried out and the arching issue of the recent campaign, from which no one can escape—president, ex-president or voter—is whether a Republican majority in the next house shall enable the great work to go on, or party opposition in the sixty-second congress between the senate and house deadlock legislative action.—Philadelphia Press.

A Meredith Prophecy

As the gubernatorial canvass progresses it becomes more and more apparent that Hon. Bertram Ellis will easily defeat Mr. Bass, whose sole support is a group of disgruntled, would-be office holders. Dan Remick who desired the assistance of the railroad to advance his senatorial aspirations, is behind Bass, of course. Winston Churchill, muck raker, and Wm. E. Chandler complete the group. Quite naturally these men have attracted considerable following, but behind Hon. Bertram Ellis is found the men who have saved the Republican party again and again from defeat. They are making no noise, they are throwing no mud, they are not trying to rule or ruin, but day by day the effective work is going on, the quiet, earnest work that will land Ellis a winner by a surprisingly safe margin. There are towns and towns in the state where Bass sentiment is absolutely unknown. On the other hand, the men who have led the party to victory for years have an organization that touches every village, town and hamlet in the state. All of the noise is for Bass, but the votes are for Ellis. Paste these reflections in your hat. They will be verified September 6.—Meredith News.

We Have No Manners
 In America

We have no manners in America. We had them once, yes; but we have degenerated in that respect. We no longer value manners as a national asset. The Germans do not either; but then they have had good manners. They do not know what it means to be polite.

The generation I belong to in America was taught how to behave, and it pains me to see that we are entirely losing the power of appreciating politeness. Politeness may be a varnish, but it is a pleasant one, at least. And do not tell me there is less sincerity about polite people. In a way there is, of course.

When an American policeman says "Go to the devil," he means it. The French policeman does not say anything like that. He merely shrugs his shoulders and you may interpret his action as you like.

Another thing which helps to make people polite in the French capital is the custom of never laying hands on anybody. You never see a policeman handle a man roughly. You never see anybody strike another person. They may threaten all they want to but it never comes to blows. A French policeman strikes to self defence only.

Is Theodore Roosevelt polite? Why, he is the most polite man on earth. He has never done a discourteous thing in his life. He is such a tremendous personality that you cannot attempt to make him submit to ordinary laws. Nothing he does is polite or impolite—it is Theodore Roosevelt. He is the greatest personality in America.

Theatrical Topics.

Clyde Fitch's Comedy "Girls"

One of the distinct novelties of the theatrical season will be seen when Clyde Fitch's greatest comedy, "Girls," is presented at Music Hall on Friday evening.

In this exceedingly humorous play, which by the way played for one year at Daly's Theatre, New York, Mr. Fitch discusses in his own inimitable style, the proposition of femininity, in the primitive stages of independence. The author is a past master in the art of depicting feminine foibles, which is probably one reason why he chose to treat this serious career at B. F. Keith's theatre during the past week in Frank Ferguson's new comedy "Sweet Widow Marie," have in rehearsal another comedy by the same author which it is said is equally bright if not better than that in which they re now appearing, and it will be given for the first time at B. F. Keith's theatre Monday afternoon. The engagement of these popular players is for two weeks only, and so great has been their success that they will probably stay in vaudeville for the rest of the season.

Another strong feature of the week will be the first appearance here of Rothwell Browne, said to be one of the greatest impersonators that has appeared in years. He is a Westerner and well known in San Francisco where he made his first great hit and name last only a few months ago, with a splendid production.

Still another feature will be San Chip and Mary Marble, in that always-delightful Delft dialogue "In Old Edam." Others will be Amy Butler and her quartette of comedians in a singing and dancing number; the Lavine Climax Trio of fun makers; and the R. A. G. company of singers and musicians.

Scene from "Girls"

subject humorously, knowing well that no argument since the days of Adam has in the least affected the psychology of the sex.

The play is written around three young pretty girls, living in a studio apartment in New York, who resolve among themselves that men are distinctly disadvantageous appendages, without which they can well afford to fight their own battles. After repeated humorous complications, the three girls go the way their hearts dictate and naturally enough, to the very men they had affected to despise. The first and last scenes are laid in the girls' studio, while the second act shows a law office, where two of the girls are employed.

As usual in Fitch plays, there is a surprise scene and this time it is so novel that the management refuses to divulge it. The cast is composed of metropolitan players and the production is complete down to the smallest detail.

The cast contains Mabel Mortimer, Lorraine Marshall, Adele Cicotti, Ralph J. Herbert, Chas. Dungan, Frank Raymond, F. A. Locke, and John Dudley.

"Up and Down Broadway" Music

William Jerome and Jean Schwartz have written a clever song for the new musical comedy, "Up and Down Broadway," which is making such a hit at Shubert's Casino. The title of this rollicking, frolicking song is "My Operatic Samson." Every reader of the New York Sunday World will get this song free next Sunday. Words and music complete.

President Smith, who is reputedly one of the most astute politicians as well as a faithful follower of the Mormon faith, is now seventy-five years old. He wears a full white beard that sweeps his waist. He declined to answer any questions regarding his trip, but said he had gone abroad in search of health and had not found it.

CHRIST CHURCH NOTES

Next Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, the Rev. Jacob E. Grigoriet, Russian Orthodox Catholic priest, of Boston, Mass., will celebrate the ancient liturgy of St. Chrysostom. The vested choir will sing the Processional Hymn and offertorium. Father Grigoriet has a superb baritone voice and is heard with splendid effect in the intonations of the sacred service.

The Peace service will be held in the afternoon at four o'clock. The service will follow the order of memorial Peace Thanksgiving service of 1905. The Hon. Frank W. Hackett will deliver the Peace address. Special importance is attached to the service this year, as this will be the fifth anniversary. Thus year by year shall the Peace church, by means of the Peace service, give forth its message of Peace and good-will to the whole world.

Eliot, Me. Aug. 31.
 Nathan Spinney, the oldest man on Eliot Neck, died this morning after a long illness. He was a native of the same neighborhood where he always lived. His age was 82 years, 2 months, 26 days. Mr. Spinney was an old time ship carpenter, a man who knew how to wield all the tools of his trade, including the adze, the use of which is becoming a lost art. He worked many years at shipyards in this vicinity and at navy yard, carrying that occupation by turns at Seafaring. He was for a long time on a fishing schooner that made trips to the banks. He leaves two sons, Wilbur F. Spinney; and Nathan Spinney, Jr., of South Eliot; three sisters, Mrs. Theodore Fernald and Mrs. Emily Welch of this town and Mrs. J. Wesley Paul of East Saugus, Mass., and numerous cousins, nephews and nieces. A genial, kindly man, and an accommodating neighbor, he will be greatly missed in his neighborhood.

William A. Shapleigh lost a valuable registered breeding hog this week.

The baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Manson is recovering from a case of pneumonia.

John G. Tobey, Esq., will return to his home in Atlanta, Ga., next week, after spending three months in town. Mr. Tobey will start from Eliot on Saturday of this week.

The Congregational church will reopen on Sunday with sermon by the pastor, J. Walter Dees.

Many of the summer people are going home this week, but the summer boarding houses will mostly have guests through September.

STATEMENT BY MR. SULLOWAY

Manchester, Aug. 31.—The following statement was made by Congressman Sulloway on Tuesday:

"My competitor, Mr. Burroughs, seems to have discovered that the forest reservation issue was getting a little too hot to handle, and is now in his campaign of misrepresentation, seeking to impress the people from the platform and through his press bureau, that I am or was opposed to the policies of President Taft." said Congressman Sulloway Tuesday. "Now I am from Missouri! I would like to have Mr. Burroughs produce for the information of the people of this district, a single instance where either by votes or by my acts, I have ever opposed a single policy or measure advocated by the president. I have served in congress, with the house in session, twelve months, or thereabouts, since President Taft was inaugurated. He can find in the Congressional Record my votes on every administration proposition. It is not difficult for him to secure it. Now let him produce the goods."

"During the months of the administration of President Taft more great and important measures have been enacted into law than in any similar period in the history of this country. There was a yea and a nay vote on all of these propositions, and that vote is accessible to every citizen and voter in this district. Now it is up to Mr. Burroughs to inform the people where I have opposed the president and his policies. I sincerely hope he will give the voters this information."

A WONDERFUL ESCAPE

Five Men and Driver in Automobile
When it Turned Turtle—
No One Injured.

A big Thomas touring car, belonging to Carroll Brown of Portland, and used for renting purposes, turned turtle, while going at a high rate of speed on the York road, Tuesday forenoon, and the occupants, five men and the driver, had a wonderful escape from serious injury.

The car was engaged by the five men and with one of the company's drivers started for this city. They got along all right until they reached the York road, and it is said that the car was being pushed along at a forty mile clip. The result on those roads was disastrous for when the car struck a sandy spot it turned and ran up a bank and threw all of the occupants out and turned turtle. By good fortune, all the men were thrown from the car and while they were badly shaken up and bruised and somewhat cut, they were not seriously injured.

The occupants of the car refused to give their names and after securing their belongings walked to the car and came into this city. The driver, after notifying the owner, came to this city and took the train to Portland. The owner of the car came here and found on examination that the big car was not badly damaged, as was expected. One tire was destroyed and it was somewhat damaged about the body, but help was secured and the car righted and after a few repairs it was started up and went to Portland.

Among the big fleet of coal schooners now in port is a trial of the largest and best five masters on the coast, whose presence here at one time is causing comment on the water front. They are the Baker Palmer of 2792 tons, Gov. Brooks of 2620 tons and Cora F. Cressey of 2499 tons and possibly even dry statistics may be rendered interesting when applied to these five New England coasters. For instance their combined cost was not far from half a million dollars, their capacities hold carry a total of about 12,000 tons of coal, and if placed bow to stern they would form a bridge extending nearly from Fribbee's wharf to Fishing Island.

Minstrel Show and Dance
The minstrel overture and dance was attended by a large crowd, on Tuesday evening. The performance was very creditable to the ladies.

The songs and local jokes were exceedingly good.

Miss Katherine O'Leary was the interlocutor, and the ends were, tango, Miss Eva Bohan; Mrs. Margaret Bierman, Miss Honora Mahoney; the bones were, Mrs. Pauline Trueman, Miss Nellie Cronin and Miss Annie Kelloy. The members of the chorus were, Margaret Mahoney, Christine Fullham, Josie Lyons, Grace Hughes, Mary McLane, Lizzie Corcoran, Mary Carey, Margaret McEvoy, Lizzie McConville, Lizzie Mooney and Agnes Connors.

The opening solo was "Meet me tonight in Dreamland," by Miss Hughes. Mrs. Bierman rendered in an excellent manner "Mandy, Howdy Do." "I'll change the form to roses," was the title of a very pretty solo by Miss Josie Lyons. The Cubanola Glide by Mrs. Trueman, received a good hand. Miss Katherine O'Leary sang with her usual good style "Tonight will never come again." Misses Bohan and Kelley rendered "Mr. Johnson, Goodnight," and the grand finale was "Sweet Love," and "Come Back to Erin."

Following the minstrel entertainment there was a complimentary ball given the delegates, for which the Eureka orchestra furnished music.

It opened with a grand march led by Miss Katherine O'Leary, president of the Ladies Auxiliary, and Mr. Timothy Connors, president of the local division A. O. H. County President George P. Scott and Mrs. Thomas Brown and 100 couples followed.

NAVY YARD

Baseball Tuesday Afternoon

There was a very close and interesting game of baseball played in the navy yard on Tuesday between the first and the second teams of the U. S. S. Hiss in which there was developed quite a bit of new material for the coming championship team of the navy among whom was Waybright at second base, who made two phenomenal one-hand catches. Skeetes Coughlin, as catcher of the second team, showed unusual good judgment as a backstop. Misterle pitched a very good game, and no doubt will be one of the best twirlers in the navy some day. This game readily decided that Bill, the blacksmith, is the man for first base. The best showing made among the new players were Rogers, in center field, and Sheehan in left field. An unusual accident happened when a goat belonging to Mike Orr ran away, and had to be shot of knowledge, not been found or tied up. The players that caused the most disappointment of the day were Selmaite, pitcher, and Wallace, first baseman, of the first team, who are supposed to be stars. There is no doubt but what the Hiss will win the navy pennant in 1911. The score:

Finding on Collision.

The court of inquiry over the collision between Ferry Boat 132, and the passenger steamer Munnatawket, has reported that the accident was due to an error of judgment by the chief boatswain's mate in command of 132, but without fault on his part. The damage to the Munnatawket is estimated at $10 and the time necessary for repairs at one-half day, and it is recommended that the work be done at Portsmouth navy yard, if feasible.

IT WAS MOVING DAY

Kind Landlord Gets Bad Return for His Big Heart

It's certainly sure that a man owning real estate, especially dwelling houses, has something besides pleasure in life. A few days ago a well known landlord, who wished to improve a big dwelling politely asked the tenant when they could vacate. They informed him that it would be impossible to get away in a hurry. The landlord with a broad smile and his hand on a roll of fives and tens in his jeans, said:

"I'll drop that ten spot in your hand if you will promise to be out of this coop by Sept. 1."

The ten looked good. There was a change in the original plans and the lady of the house was so pleased that they decided they would pack up there and then. Anyhow, she got the ten, and somebody got other things, also.

Yesterday was moving day, and everything that could be moved was moved. Today the owner took a peep at the vacated dwelling and found that his generosity was rewarded by the disappearance of all the locks, door knobs, door bells and everything that was not nailed.

Perhaps the next tenant that packs up to move will be compelled to leave part of the building behind, and there will be no ten dollar bills issued on the side as a reward for a quick transfer.
